FEARS FELT FOR SAFETY OF TWO BOYS

Man and Woman Also Added to List of Lost Persons

WINNIPEG, Oct. 27.—Police are searching for four persons—a man, a woman and two boys—who have disappeared from their homes here during the past five days.

Search for Ross McDermid, 14-year-old son of Hon. J. S. 1520, near, provincial minister of mines, had spread across the international boundary, following reports a boy answering his description had been seen near Detroit, Mich. Relatives here in Winnipeg are trying to aid police there in the hunt. There has been missing five days. There was no word of Robert Cook, 18, who disappeared on the same day as Ross McDermid.

High School Boy Sought At Whitley

WHITLEY, Oct. 27.—A wide search is in progress today for 15-year-old Ross Wilson, high school student who has been missing since yesterday morning. A note which read "goodbye" was found to be the boy's handwriting, but his father claims the writing is not that of his son's. His parents can offer no explanation for his disappearance.

City Not To Blame For Drains Clogging Unless Notified

Unless the civic administration has been duly notified that drains are clogged, no blame can be attached to it if water mounds overflow or backflow and flood basements, according to a decision handed down in the district court by His Honor Judge J. L. Crawford, in dismissing on Thursday the claim against the City of $100 of Henry LaFante, 3011 St. 10th.

LaFante sought to recover damages owing to the fact that his house cellar was deluged following a rain and hailstorm, which, in its production, caused water to flow from the street through his basement window and into the cellar, the lower fifth of the window being eight inches above the ground.

N. McDonald, for the plaintiff, called on Judge J. L. Crawford.

The court decided for the city.

They've got their hands on gold worth $1,000,000. It's more of the same gold bullion that was salvaged from the wrecked liner Egypt, which sank to years ago off West France. Here the crew of the salvage ship Argenta is shown unloading the gold bars at Plymouth, England.

Relief, Canada's Greatest Problem, H. F. McKee States

Declaring that unemployment relief was Canada's greatest social problem, H. F. McKee, manager of the special city relief department, outlined the relief system in force here at the present time at the regular luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Macdonald hotel Thursday noon. Mr. McKee said that at present there were about 75,000 people receiving relief in the Dominion, there being 9,000 in relief in this city. The expenditure in this relief is approximately $1,000,000, while relief issued in Edmonton to date totaled about $750,000.

Explaining the various steps which must be taken before a prospective relief case is given assistance, the speaker said every person applying for relief must sign an affidavit that he is in need of help. This phase of the system was put into effect last May, and as a result 200 people who refused to sign the affidavit were struck from the relief list, thereby saving the city a considerable amount. A full investigation was made in

SPECIAL TESTS MADE FAIL OWNERS

So Doggy Now Homeless

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—A last German shepherd dog called "Hobo" by police, was still without a home today, because the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals lacks a King Solomon. "There were two claimants, Miss Esther Mann said she was sure 'Hobo' was really her lost 'Fritz'.

"No sir," interrupted James M. 16, "That is no other than my dog." He said the dog liked to play with a hose. One was produced, and immediately the dog started romping with it. "You can tell it is Fritz if he carries a seaweed named Max."

A paper was produced and "Hobo" or "Fritz" or "Max" proudly walked over to the kennel with it.

Dr. William A. Cook, Jr., a veterinarian, suggested enclosing both claimants and the dog in an exercise pen. They were warned not to play with the dog or show any affection.

But the shepherd dog, bailing to receive any appreciation at a far corner.

A somewhat distracted group then started out to find some new dog identification tests.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Triplets born in the near future in Chicago want to have to be without cribs to sleep in, if John Pann-Gamser, opera tenor, has his way. He began his crib campaign yesterday by presenting cribs to each child of two sets of triplets recently born in a Chicago hospital.

Irishman Won't Keep Cheap Pigs

LONDON, Oct. 27.—"I'm a poor Irishman and proud of it, but I'll not keep pigs at present prices," said a farmer on the market here. He carried a pair of young and protesting porkers, and explained he had sold the pair for nothing. "I've had the use of the pigs," he said.

Cow Traded For Music Account

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 27.—It isn't hard to decide whether this is a case of barter or whether farmers would rather have more than drink milk. A cow recently followed her master to the rear door of a music store and was traded for credit on the farmer's overdue account on a musical instrument.

Washington Town Has 'Swap' Day

Hogs were traded for ducks, sheep for hardware, grain for groceries and chickens for a load of straw here in an official "swap day."

VALERA POLICY GRAIN GROWING MADE PUBLIC

Text of Government Bill Announced for Free State

DUBLIN, from free State, Oct. 27.—Text of a government bill designed to give the state control of growing and milling of all cereals, and importation of all flour for livestock, was made public today. The bill provides for registration of growers, millers and importers, who alone will be permitted to deal for resale in the products affected by the bill. The measure fixes standard prices for home-grown wheat and provides a bounty for each wheat but only when grown on specified areas.

The standard price for 280-pound barrel of wheat would be 25 shillings and sixpence (about $5.50 a bushel) between the months of August and December in 1932 and 1933 and under the bill.

Between January and July, in 1934 and 1935, the price would be 25 shillings and sixpence. The bounty will be equal to the difference between the ascertained and standard prices per bushel.

The development of wheat growing and milling industries by the Free State is in line with its policy under President Eamon De Valera of making the country as far as possible independent of outside sources for foodstuffs. The tariff differences between the Free State and Great Britain over the defaulted default amounts have sprung up, and as a result each country has levied a tariff of 20 per cent against the other.

TEACHERS WILL GET SALARY CUT

CALGARY, Oct. 27.—Agreement between the teachers' union and the Calgary public school board regarding salary reductions was reached here last night after several weeks of negotiations.

The teachers accepted an 11-per cent reduction on a sliding scale to replace the four per cent voluntary cut which was in effect. The salary reduction is retroactive to October 1 and will cover a saving to the school board of approximately $100,000 annually.

He will be taken to Regina jail where he will await the pleasure of the law.

Evidence of Jeannotte's mental condition was to the effect he was suffering from hallucinations and that he had persecutory delusions regarding his neighbors and friends, whom he believed to be conspiring against him.

STIMSON TALK BRANDED OLD

TOKYO, Oct. 27.—Reference to non-recognition of the fruits of aggression in his Pittsburgh speech last night by Henry L. Stimson, United States secretary of state, drew the comment from a foreign office spokesman today that "it was the usual talk."

The spokesman said the reference to alleged Japanese aggression in Manchuria were implied accusations against Japan "that had lost their sting through frequent repetition."

Nevertheless, in evidence of official Japanese interest in the speech, the Washington embassy obtained an advance copy and called the foreign office voluminous extracts. The speech was the largest story in the afternoon papers.

PEACE PLANES IN WAR

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The conversion of age commercial transport planes into craft suitable for war was being discussed today by British plane manufacturers. WHEAT PRICES CRASH HALTED ON THURSDAY

WINNIPEG, Oct. 27.—Wheat prices turned upward today to effectively halt a two-day display of bottoming. Wheat had not shown interest in the lowest levels in the history of the wheat market. Hindered by news of more than four cents in the price, the market reported to good wheat support to prevent substantial gains at the close.

Crushing prices were 1½ to 1½ higher than yesterday's figures. October closed at 47½, up 1½; November closed at 47½, up 1½; December closed at 47½, up 1½; while May finished at 47½, up 1½.

The bull element took an early lead on the opening session as the wheat market showed signs of recovery. The price of a good export trade showed overnight substantial support from outside interest, continuing to trade and as the result more wheat than 2,000,000 bushels of wheat found its way into export channels overnight and the market was well found in Chicago and Liverpool and moved to pull the market out of the bottom.

Hedging from country elevators was not heavy and the market was not of the nature of interest orders during the morning. However, an appreciable reaction early today, as also did the smaller movement from Argentina and Russia. The market was accompanied by reports of a steady stream of orders from Germany and higher prices asked for this wheat, with the result that wheat improved considerably. There was a fall in the price of wheat in the Argentine.

Shipments from the Argentine were estimated at only 30,000 bushels. The Argentine market was a year ago. From the Argentine, the market was a year ago. From the Argentine, the market was a year ago.
